New Heroes for Horses helping SAVING AMERICA'S HORSES with Billboards in New Jersey!

Wild for Life Foundation is thrilled to announce the unveiling of the beautiful new "SAVING AMERICA'S HORSES" billboards. Helping us to launch this exciting endeavor is David Goldstein, President/CEO of Anchor Advertising Agency, Inc. of the Greater Philadelphia Area.

"We couldn't be more excited when David contacted us with an in-kind ad project donation for SAVING AMERICA'S HORSES", said filmmaker, Katia Louise. Goldstein has always loved horses and he wants to help save them! As a caring citizen, David has giving back to his community for some time. His company is an upstanding business member of the Cape May County Chamber where he has also been helping to fill a void by supporting the new Free Meal Center.

David is also a health and physical education for the School District of Philadelphia and he does a lot of driving. So when David drives to school and sporting events, he'll be raising awareness about the need to protect our horses. Check out David's awesome truck which now displays a beautiful SAVING AMERICA'S HORSES billboard!

The second billboard that David is sponsoring can be seen on the busy intersection of Rt. 9S and Rt.147 in Cape May Court House, New Jersey.

You can take part too! Just contact us and tell us you want to help. We welcome your support and would love to hear from you!

The SAVING AMERICA'S HORSES billboards boast a beautiful landscape with wild horses filmed at Return to Freedom's Wild Horse Sanctuary during the making of this life changing film.

We are delighted to recognize David Goldstein and his company, Anchor Advertising Agency as SAVING AMERICA'S HORSES Heroes for Horses in recognition of his kind and generous support for the horses. Check out the "Saving America's Horses" Ambassador and Heroes page now!
