FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
Nov 22, 2009

WFLF is pleased to announce actor, director, sculptor, opera singer, and horse advocate, Paul Sorvino has joined the Honorary Board and Cast of SAVING AMERICA’S HORSES A NATION BETRAYED.

Sir Paul Sorvino is famous for his imposing role as mob boss "Paulie Cicero" in Goodfellas, his on the money portrayal of Henry Kissinger in Nixon, and his role as "Fulgencio Capulet" in Baz Luhrmann's Romeo and Juliet. Sorvino is also recognized for his role as "Sergeant Phil Cerreta" in the hit TV show Law and Order. Sir Paul has committed himself to helping to spread awareness about the evils of horse slaughter. Sorvino's own horse, FedEx Man, is the grandson of the great Exceller, who tragically ended his historic racing career in a Swedish slaughterhouse. "FedEx Man is the reason I support horse rescue," explains Sorvino. "I look into his eyes and wonder how anyone could butcher these unforgettable, sentient beings."

Production officials are extremely pleased to have the opportunity to capture the truth about this controversial issue through the voice of our Nation’s most out spoken experts on the topic of horse slaughter. Publicist Kate Dudley suggests looking out for more exciting press releases in the near future with news about additional cast members and special updates on production activities.

SAVING AMERICA’S HORSES A NATION BETRAYED depicts a country divided and inspires great hope for the protection of all horses and burros. It’s a tender yet honest look at the reality that our American horses are born into, the love, joy and respect they give us and in contrast, the complacent mindset of the pro slaughter proponents.
