Victoria McCullough joins cast of SAVING AMERICA'S HORSES - A NATION BETRAYED

Wild for Life Foundation is pleased to announce that Victoria McCullough of The Triumph Project has joined the cast of speakers in the highly landmark feature documentary film, SAVING AMERICA'S HORSES A NATION BETRAYED.

As the founder of The Triumph Project; a global awareness campaign to enlighten people about the betrayal of horses, Victoria brings a fresh and clear perspective to the film about the type of horses that are being thrown away and sent to slaughter on a regular basis. Filmmaker Katia Louise recently met with Ms. McCullough for her on camera interview in Wellington, FL, where several of the horses rescued under The Triumph Project reside.

The Triumph Project has also generously donated $25,000 to the Wild for Life Foundation to help insure that this important film project can be released and seen in theaters this year. "It's an honor to partner together with Victoria and The Triumph Project," says Katia Louise. "We are deeply grateful to The Triumph Project for their financial support which is has made it possible for us to initiate the submission of SAVING AMERICA'S HORSES: A Nation Betrayed to the Academy for consideration."

In the true spirit of philanthropy, The Triumph Project will match your gift dollar-for-dollar, through September 28th, up to a total of \$50,000. Your gift will help fund the remainder of the expenses so that SAVING AMERICA'S HORSES can be theatrically released this year.

SAVING AMERICA'S HORSES A NATION BETRAYED illuminates the connection between the eradication of our wild and domestic equines, its impact on the environment and the future of humanity. The film captivates its audience by exploring the majesty of the horse, the freedom they represent, the value of that freedom and what it means to life. The mission of SAVING AMERICA'S HORSES is to break the cycle of animal cruelty for America's horses by providing a life changing resource that cultivates action and inspires social change. Take action on behalf of your legacy, learn and share about how to help.

Named after the rescue of an aged Belgian workhorse, The Triumph Project was founded by Victoria McCullough of the Davis-McCullough Foundation as an awareness campaign to enlighten citizens of the US and abroad of the egregious mistreatment and betrayal of horses that have served in battle, sport and pleasure.

SAVING AMERICA'S HORSES - A NATION BETRAYED is an educational film project under Wild for Life Foundation, a 501c3 nonprofit grassroots charity dedicated to saving, protecting and preserving wild and domestic equines.
